

What is the first thing that comes to mind when you think back to the music of 1969 besides the first landing on the moon and Woodstock, the rock festival that still defines the very concept of the rock festival! Fantastic hits! Rock was still very exciting as the '60s came to a close, with bands and artists from both America and across the Atlantic turning out some of their most memorable work. Put on your tie - dye shirts and wave those peace signs as 1969 pays tribute to The 5th Dimension, The Archies, The Temps, Sly and The Family Stone, and The Beatles to name but a few! 1969 will put you in the mood to get up and dance like you never have before!
